Wesel, January 27, 2023: We are proud to announce our new Eastern Africa Regional Managing Director Mr. Brian Omega.

Along with the further growth of Soventix, this new local contact person will broaden our presence and reflect our ongoing activities on the African continent. We are happy to present you our local contact of our company as a reliable partner for investing in solar energy and fighting against climate change.

Mr. Brian Omega said:

I am determined to do my part in accelerating the use of renewable energy to commercial and industrial companies. The intention is to support local capacity to self-generate, tapping on the immense benefits of this model and play a key role in the fight against climate change.

I look forward to enhancing our local and international partnerships, bringing closer to home the skills required to realize solar projects & develop the local hub.

Engineer with extensive experience in commercial, technical and delivery of Capital Energy Infrastructure Projects in Africa.

At Soventix, I continue to be at the forefront advocating and driving the utilization of the sun (that we have in abundance) in transitioning our energy to more sustainable solutions.
